FILING INFORMATION

Due to the possibility of IRS penalties, time is of the essence for Form 5500 filing. The Form 5500 filing deadline is seven months from the end of the plan year. As soon as your plan year ends complete this form and return a copy to TASC. Failure to do so within 45 days of the Form 5500 filing deadline means you will be completing the filing yourself, and as such assume all penalties associated with the filing. Form 5500 filing extensions are available by request only and carry a processing fee of $100. If within 15 days of the filing deadline, an extension may not be possible due to normal processing time allowance. You are responsible for any fines or penalties that may result in late submission. Prior or past filings require additional penalties and fees; contact TASC for assistance.
